In view of the increasing cases of physical and cyber-bullying of students, Central Board of Secondary Education (CBSE) directed all its affiliated schools to form an anti-bullying committee. It has also recommended strict actions, against anyone found bullying, ranging from a written warning to even rustication of the student.
The board has issued a several measures to stop bullying incidents in schools. Schools have to prominently put up a display board warning students of strict action if they are found indulging in the act of bullying another student. Bullying should be strictly prohibited on the premises.
Further an anti-bullying committee should be constituted which would comprise the vice-principal, a senior teacher, school doctor, counsellor, parent-teacher representative, school management representative, legal representative and peer educators.

Sadhana Parashar, professor and director (academic, research, training and innovation), CBSE said, "In view of the misconduct, school management should take action as per the gravity of the situation.
